

Hello,

My name is _____, and I live at _____ with my spouse _____ and our _____ kids. I hope you're doing okay in these uncertain times.

I wanted to let you know that we would like to offer help in any way that we're able. We might be able to pick up prescriptions for you if you can't get out, or maybe just meet on the sidewalk (at a safe distance) for a conversation. Lots of us are feeling isolated and so it's always nice to have social interaction. You may have needs that we cannot personally meet, but we may be able to direct you to resources that can help.

We're connected to a church, Second Baptist Church, which is in turn connected with a broad network of hundreds churches, non-profits, and government agencies across the city that is working together to share resources to help those in need. If we're not able to help you personally, we can reach out to others in our network to see if there's a way we can find help. We can't promise that we can meet every need, but we can do our best.

My phone number is _____. Please feel free to call me if there's an emergency. I tend to go to bed early, so I'd prefer to receive calls before it gets late. On a personal note, I enjoy growing vegetables in my garden, playing board games, and walking the wooded trails in Bryan Park. I think we'll all be seeing more of each other as many of us are working from home, so I look forward to saying "Hi" across the street in the weeks to come.

Grace and peace to you,

_____
